THE POSSIBLE . . .

County, Engineers To Meet In March

Judge Requests Overflow Session

County Judge Don G. Humble Wednesday told The Herald that arrangements are underway to set a meeting of U. S. Corps of Engineers and property owners along Little River.

He wrote a letter to the commanding officer of the Fort Worth District, Colonel West, asking to set a tentative date this month for the meeting.

Judge Humble talked by telephone with the executive officer of the Fort Worth District Tuesday and learned that Colonel West and his staff were and had been interested in solving the overflow problem in Little River below Belton Reservoir.

A rush of interest in the overflow problem developed following the Milam County Commissioner's resolution to federal executive and legislative leaders, seeking assistance in halting overflows from Belton Reservoir water.

No immediate assurance of aid was promised by the U. S. Corps of Engineers or Congressman W R. Poage, who replied to the Commission's resolution last week asking for recommendations on how to correct the over flow problem.

Congressman Poage apparently was concerned about attitudes on dams in Milam County. In a story in The Temple Telegram Saturday, Poage indicated concern about future construction of dams if water flowing from Belton Dam was causing great problems in Milam County.

Judge Humble said that Fort Worth officials were "very interested in meeting with property owners affected by the overflows." He said a firm date would be announced as soon as one agreeable to the engineers and property owners could be established.

"The Commissioner's Court resolution sought to get interest in Little River property owners' overflow problems, and nothing more," Judge Humble said. "The method of releasing water is causing bottomland floods when there are no floods."

Poage and Corps of Engineers officials told county officials that appropriations are not now available for channel rectification which engineers have been studying.

About 210 property owners have land in the bottomlands of Little River. Humble said that most "of the people up and down the river are concerned about the way waters from Belton Reservoir have kept up a flood stage for weeks at a time."

Poage's reply to the County Court was a lengthy request for a workable, co - operative solution between property owners and engineers.

He told the Telegram "the Cameron problem is too much water being released from the lake (Belton Reservoir) and I guess they think the folks of Bell County should just drink it all up."

Belton Reservoir was built in the early 1950's during the dry cycle. Overflows from heavy rains both in Milam County and above the Reservoir have caused the river to overflow numerous times since 1957, year of the worst overflow since the famous flood of 1921.

A copy of the resolution was also sent to Vice - President Lyndon Johnson and Senator Ralph Yarborough Vice - President Johnson replied with a letter saying the Commissioners resolution was being processed for action by proper authority.

Herald Seeking Grave Location Of Rebel Soldier

This, the Centennial year of the Civil War, has brought forth a quest to locate the grave of a Confederate soldier, escaped from Union law and buired in a cemetery near Cameron.

A letter from Harry R. Wright, of Lufkin, asked for a picture of the burial spot and tombstone. The Herald is conducting a search to find the grave.

The Confederate soldier-s name was Manson Sherill Jolly, who according to Wright, drowned in Little River and was buried nearby.

The quest for the graveside began when the Lufkin man visited at Clemson College, S. C., home state of the fugitive Jolly 100 years ago.

Dave Watson, a retired staff member of Clemson, is restoring the home place belonging to the South Carolina Confederate buried in the Cameron vicinity.

In a letter to The Herald (see editorial page), Wright said a cousin of the Confederate soldier noted his death in Little River about five years after settling in Milam County.

Meanwhile The Herald is seeking to locate a tombstone and gravesite of Manson Sherill Jolly, whose death occurred July 8, 1869.

Location of the site will complete the final chapter in this bit of Americana, which Jolly's exploits helped to write in a book 60 years ago. "A Maid of the Foothills."

Sharp Patrons To Vote April 1 On School Status

About 150 Sharp School patrons met with their school board members Wednesday, February 23, to discuss the fate of the dependent school district next year.

An hour-long dicussion on alternatives of consolidating with nearby districts or maintaining the district developled plans to hold a vote April 1 whether or not to keep the elementary school. It would be held along with the regular school trustee election.

Boyd Offield is chairman of the Sharp School board.

Offield said it would be impractical to maintain the high school since daily attendance was falling off yearly. He asked for opinions from school patrons on what they wished to do.

Present were superintendents from Rockdale, Bartlett, Rogers and Cameron, schools which had assured Sharp School trustees they would accept transfer students next fall. Also present was the Buckholts superintendent.

H. D. Maxwell, Milam County school superintendent, told the group that the present Sharp District tax rate of $1.50 could be raised to $2 per $100 valuation if patrons wanted to maintain the high school and elementary school another year. It was the only way to keep the high school, he said.

He pointed out the elementary school could be maintained if patrons desired. Present attendance is 76 students in the first eight grades Either an eight or six-grade system could be sustained.

When asked if they favored a tax raise to keep the whole school, two hands were raised.

Offield explained that if the district is disbanded the students could transfer out the first year then the district could be subdivided along lines established by preferences of transferring students.

Maxwell pointed out thot consolidation of the district with other districts is determined by the County School Board.

School officials in Rockdale, Buckholts, Bartlett, Rogers and Cameron had offered to accept transfer students.

Interest in libraries has doubled in Milam County during the past few weeks. Rockdale, working for a library during recent months, learned of a proposed $12,500 donation from a California neurosurgeon who wishes commemorate his mother, a former Rockdale resident. Rockdale is also planning a library on a site set aside by their City Council.

In Cameron State Librarian Peace has told library board members about the 20,000 volume library built by Taylor and how the building program was completed in two years. Nylon Zippers For Ladies Wear

By Frances H. Johnson
Milam Home Demonstration Agent

A new nylon zipper, already appearing in some ladies ready-to-wear promises added convenience and attractiveness to garments, according to Rheba Merle Boyles, extension clothing specialist of A & M College.

The new all - nylon spiral design gives the new zipper the feel and flexibility of fabric - soft and warm to the touch and light as air.

It is small, yet incredibly strong and comes inall colors. Because color penetrates through and through, it can never wear off.

The new zipper has a new automatic look with a built-in safety feature to preserve it from accidental damage. It is flatter and smaller, too.

It is snag - proof, but if frayed edge of fabric should catch in coils, you can bend it in half then continue to zip.

Department stores and fabric shops will be stocking the new zippers soon.

Keep your best pressing equipment handy when you sew, and use it to press for a professional look. It will assure a more accurate fit and give a more professional look to your finished garment.

Begin by pressing the creases out of your fabric before cutting, and carefully press after each step. The time and effort will be well worth while.

Technique is important, too. In general, work on the wrong side of the fabric. Occasionally this is impossible and you may have to press such things as pocket welts on the right side. For this, use a press cloth. Always smooth material carefully under the iron and press in the straight grain of the fabric wherever possible.

In sewing cotton or linen, press when well dampened or use a steam iron with high heat. Press woolens with a damp cloth between iron and dry woolen, or use a steam iron. Use high heat for wool, but don't press too dry. To skrink out ease, pat with hand to hold steam in the wool fibers.

Press silk or rayon with steam iron or use a pressing cloth, dampening cloth as you work. Use medium heat and press with light touch. Open seams with point of iron lightly before using press cloth. Be careful not to waterspot the fabric.

County Agents Notes

Review Listed On Milam Orchards

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

Major emphasis at the orchard demonstration last week at Rockdale started with the care of the soil. A recent soil test on an adjoining farm showed the level of organic matter to be 2 per cent which is very low. The minimum range for the present organic matter should be at least 2.5 percent. What does this have to do with fruit trees? Poor yields can be expected if proper plant growthis lacking in any crop. Organic matter added to the soil furnished food for soil bacteria, increases the water holding capacity of the soil as well as imporving the feeder root development.

Organic matter should be added to a soil for an orchard before the trees are set. This may be done by plowing under a cover crop of clover, oats, or ryegrass.

Soil fertility - Soil test on the adjoining farm also indicated the soil needed 200 lbs of a 10-20-10 fertilizer or fts equivalent per acre. A soil test will help a lot in serving as a guide for the proper treatment of any soil.

Treating individual trees - Two and one - half pounds of 10-20-10 fertilizer was placed around the demonstration trees by punching holes in the ground 8 to 10 inches deep under the limb spread of the trees. The trees were 1½ to 2 inches in diameter.

Further care - A dormant soil spray was put on the trees at the rate of 5 tablespoons of the conconcrate per one gallon of water. This should be done before the blooms and leaves appear on the trees to control scale insects.

Pruning the peach trees - Trees should not be over pruned. Buds for this years fruit crop are set on the previous season's growth. Only about one - third of the previous seasons growth should be pruned off. The undersirable limbs should be cut off for balance and permit working around the trees.

Annual pruning - After fruit trees are pruned the first two years for the proper shaping of the trees, annual pruning to control excessive growth should be done. If excessive growth is not controlled, fertility will be used for supporting woody growth rather than a crop of fruit.

Finally, "tree" and "soil" care are necessary and will reward the grower with an abundant crop of fresh fruit.

Thousands of bushels of fresh fruit are shipped into Milam county annually.

TEXAS HYBRID GRAIN CONTEST

This contest will be sponsored again by the Texas Certified Seed Producers and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Prizes will be $50, $35, $25, $10 and $5 in each area. There will be a dryland and irrigated division An appropriate plaque will be awarded each of the State winners making the largest yield per acre with irrigation and without irrigation.

In addition to the above awards the champion grain sorghum grower in the contest (with or without irrigation) will receive another $50 cash award. The State Champion will, therefore be awarded $100 in cash and a plaque.

Eligibility - All farmers, 4-H club members and FFA boys, both white and colored, except commercial hybrid grain sorghum seed growers, are eligible to compete in the contest.

Requirements - All contestants must enroll with the county agent All contestants must plant one of the following grain sorghum hybrids: Rs 590, 608, 610, 630, 661, 681 or Texas 601, 620 or 660.

A minimum of one acre is required. Methods of determining yields will be mailed growers after entries are made.

Milam county growers won a sizeable share of this contest money last year. Grain sorghum is an important crop in Milam county and a lot of good yields should be expected this year. Growers are encouraged to select an acre of good land, apply fertilizer, and enter the contest.

A grain sorghum tour is being planned for July 19 in Milam county.

The Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc., cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will again sponsor statewide production programs for growers of hybrid grain sorghums and corn.

Soil Temperature Important At Planting Time

COLLEGE STATION — In tis age of mechaned cotton production, a uniform stand with desirable plant spacing is a must. Since such a stand requires precise planting operations, both equipment improvements and planting practices are important. It is also important to take full advantage of the growing season by obtaining a satisfactory stand the first planting.

One guide to use in aiming for maximum germination of the first planting is soil temperature. Temperature is a major factor in seed germination and cottonseed germinates poorly at temperatures lower than 70 degrees F. It has also been proven that seedlings grown more slowly and less vigorously at the lower temperatures.

In order to determine the accuracy of soil temperature as a guide to planting dates, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station conducted a series of tests at the Lubbock substation. One of the findings was that minimum soil temperatures at an eight-inch depth for the ten - day period preceding planting were useful as planting guides.

It was also found that cotton seedlings emerge in five to nine days when the preplanting soil tempearatures at eight-inch depth averaged 60 degrees F. or above for ten days. But up to fifteen days were required for seelings emergence when the average soil temperature was lower.

Another advantage of using soil temperatures instead of currently recommended dates as a planting guide is that it allows earlier or later planting, depending on current weather conditions.

Anyone desiring more information on the tests conducted by the Experiment Station should write the Agricultual Information Office, College Station and request a copy of MP-465, "Soil Temperature -- A Guide to Timely Cotton Planting."

Change Dry Flies Often

Wet flies and dry flies are different in many ways.

One important point to remember is that the dry fly loses its efficiency once it gets water logged. Conversely the wet fly increases its allure the more beat-up it gets.

So change dry flies often and let the wet flies stay on your line.

Additional Funds Made Available For Farm Housing

An additional $50 million has been made available to the Farmers Home Administration for farm housing loans, William H. Gaston the agency's county supervisor announced today.

He said that the new loan funds assure an adequate supply of this type of credit for eligible farm families during the balance of the fiscal year. Loans made so far this year plus those being processed had practically exhausted the funds previously available.

Farm housing loans are made throughout the rural areas of the United States. The loans provide farm families with an opportunity to acquire an adequate house and efficient service buildings.

Applications for farm housing loans may be made at the local office at the Farmers Home Administration, Gaston said. The loans bear 4 percent interest and are repayable over periods up to 33 years.

The major demand in Milam County is for loans to construct and modernize farm houses and most of the funds are used for new construction.

Improvements financed with the loans include the installation of central heating and pressure water supply systems, the addition of bathrooms and the modernization of kitchens.

Many local farmers also use the loans to adjust their service buildings to the changing requirements of agriculture.

To be eligible a farmer must own a farm that will annually produce for sale or home use at least $400. worth of commodities based on 1944 prices and be of sufficient value to adequately secure the loan. In addition, he must lack the resources needed to obtain credit elsewhere and have sufficient income to pay farm operating and family living expenses and meet payments when due on his debts.

TEXAS LAWMEN
Col. John S. (Rip) Ford,
Soldier - Statesman

"Just a few kind words . ."

While John Salmon Ford was a regimental adjutant during the Mexican War a regular duty was to issue official death notices. He began each message, "Rest in Peace." When battles became hot, thick and fast, he shortened this to "R.I.P." and acquired a lasting nickname.

This kindly-spoken gentleman was highly accomplished and versatile. South Carolinian by birth (1815), Rip crowded an incredible number of activities into his 82 years of life. As a soldier, three wars: the Texas Revolution, Mexican and Civil Wars. As a statesman: Mayor, Congressman under the Republic, State Senator, Member of the Secession, National Democratic and Constitutional conventions. Between times Rip had practiced medicine, edited three different newspapers, explored and mapped the Ford-Neighbors Trail between San Antonio and El Paso. All this — and three years with the Rangers, stationed between the Nueces and the Rio Grande, where the Indians were usually looking for a fight. One historian commented that Rip always discharged his duties with "tactful moderation." In later years Col. Ford enjoyed writing reminiscences and historical articles, about history he had helped to make. He was adding a few kind words when he died in San Antonio in 1897.

As Texas lawmen made this a better place to live, industry and commerce were playing their part, too. And one industry, brewing, has always provided enjoyment as well as employment and revenues for communities. In Texas — "Beer Belongs." Brewers, wholesalers, retailers and the United States Brewers Foundation are working constantly in cooperation with today's lawmen, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions.

Home Builders Pay Tribute To Bond Program

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Treasury Department today made public a tribute from the National Association of Home Builders on the 20th annivesary of the U. S. Savings Bond Program. It was based on "the important part that Savings Bonds have played in helping to finance new homes for hundreds of thousands of Americans since 1941".

E. J. Burke, Jr., of San Antonio, new president of the Association, said: "Savings Bonds have helped make our country strong -- and have made Americans the 'home-owning-est' people in the world. I'm sure I speak for everyone connected with the industry -- architects, builders, lenders and guarantors -- when I say we endorse Savings Bonds as a sound way to home ownership for the individual, the community and the Nation."

Records show that 35 million American families own their homes today -- past twice as many as 15 years ago. Returning war veterans started the housing boom in the middle forties, many thousands of them using accumulated Savings Bonds for all or part of down payment. A great many other people also have used this means of becoming homeown-ers.

The home builders. tribute appears as the third in a series of monthly advertisements in observance of the 20th Annivesary of the Savings Bond Program. The ad series, carried as a public service of the newspaper industry, highlights the contributions of major volunteer groups and institutions to the program's success.

Mr. and Mrs. Narvie Caperton spent the weekend visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Logan in Houston.

Major Crimes In Texas Increased 13-1 Percent For '60

Major crime in Texas increased 13.1 per cent in 1960 over 1959, led by hikes of some 25 per cent in robbery and burglary, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported today.

The total number of estimated offenses in 1960 was 57 per cent greater than the 1955 total, the department said.

The department's report, compiled from data reported by Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police, indicated the following:

Murder and homicide -- 1,080 estimated offenses; rate per 100,000 population 11.7; down 1.3 per cent from 1959.

Rape -- 1,196 estimated offenses; rate 13; up 2.7 per cent.

Robbery -- 3,560 estimated offenses; rate 38.6; up 25.7 per cent.

Burglary -- 56,976 estimated offenses; rate 617.7; up 24.3 per cent.

Aggravated assault -- 12,128 estimated offenses; rate 131.5; up 1.8 per cent.

Theft -- 108,869 estimated offenses; rate 1,180; up 12 per cent.

Auto theft -- 15,147 estimated offenses; rate 164.2 down 4.3 per cent.

The total number of estimated offenses involving these seven types of major crime during 1960 was 198,956, or a rate of 2,157 per 100,000 population, for an increase of 13.1 per cent over 1959.

"This means there was an average of a little over one major crime committeed in Texas every three minutes of every day of the year 1960," said Co. Homer Garrison Jr., department director.

"Thepicture of the crime problem in our state can be seen even more clearly by a further breakdown: Murder and homicide occurred at the rate of about three per day; rape occurred on an average of three pre day; robbery, 10 per day; burglary, 156 per day or about 6.5 every hour; theft, 298 per day or about 12 per hour; and auto theft, 41 daily or nearly two every hour."

French Youth Seek National Goal . . .

A quest for national purpose is not limited to the United States.

A recent TV documentary on France showed the youth of that Western European nation in a state of unrest. The reason: young people of various backgrounds told interviewers they were unhappy with colonial wars which their leaders have tabbed "useless". And they said also they could see no direction for their youthful vigor without colonies into which to carry it.

It is the problem of the age: fewer worlds to "conquer" and more people to "conquer" them.

And everybody has the capability of destroying civilized mankind.

The continent of Africa is seething with moves for independence, a characteristic of all men. And yet, most of the young nations, only recently colonies, have not achieved the stature to rule themselves. Unlike the United States of 1776, these young nations haven't the enormous room for settlers to spread out with their range of idealogies and backgrounds. National sovreignty, as such, must follow the blueprints of existing society. And they are quick to conflict with either East or West .. . democracy or communism.

If the new nations of Asia and Africa were steeped in the traditions of workable political systems, as the American colonies had been some 150 years before the Revolution, there would be less possibility of a faroff Civil war involving the rest of the world.

Immaturity and self government hardly go together. The desire for freedom comes first, but with is should come recognition of accompanying responsibilities. The Congo, for instance, is a powder keg because at least three forces are working toward a unified government there. Algeria, France's nemesis in Africa, strives for autonomy. And around Africa independence is erupting in a river of misunderstanding, disenchantment and bloodshed.

It is no wonder that young people in France are searching for direction. So much has been said of human rights vs. patriotism that Europeans hardly know where to turn. In France, for example, there are some 25 splinter parties represented in Parliament, compared to the two parties here plus three or four very minor ones.

As it is now, The United Nations must play referee in internal disputes that will only work themselves out when the people achieve their own unity. If left alone, however, they would be subject to minority Communist control, a la Cuba.

Perhaps the time for asking questions is fast ending. The day of taking an issue by the handle and having at it may be here. It looks as if the young men of France and the rest of the world want a decision.

Mr. Frank M. Luecke
The Cameron Herald
Cameron. Texas
Dear Mr. Luecke:

Recently I was at Clemson College, South Carolina and there met an old friend, Dave Watson, who has now retired from the College after many long and distinguished years.

While visiting with Dave, he told me that he had bought the old home place where Manson Sherill Jolly was born and reared until he was forced to leave the state of South Carolina as the most wanted man alive for his depredations upon the Union Army forces who were occupying Anderson. These soldiers were largely negro, with white officers.

Dave told me of the many times after Lee's surrender as to how Manse, as he was commonly known, led small groups of Union soldiers to his old home place where he killed them with a cap and ball pistol, after which their bodies were thrown in a well. Dave learned of this firsthand from the lips of his grandmother who often saw Jolly on these missions.

The old home place is being restored completely, accordong to Dave, and during this restoration process a cap and ball pistol was found hidden between the logs forming the walls of the old house, presumably the gun with which he killed so many Yankee soldiers. In the old well, according to Dave, numerous brass buttons, insignia, etc, which were worn by the Union Soldiers, have been found.

Manse, in spite of the high price offered for him, either dead or alive, did not choose the darkness of the midnight hour to leave South Carolina. Instead, he rode his horse, Dixie, through the middle of the Yankee encampment in borad open daylight, with both guns blazing, with never a thought of surrender - and he never did.

I have personally seen many of the letters which he wrote back home telling of his hardships along the way. I have also seen the letter written by his newphew from Cameron, telling of his death in the Little River.

Mr. Watson is doing a great service for posterity's sake in the restoration of this old home place of Jolly, about 12 miles SE of Clemson and I thought that you might possibly be interestedin the story as we know it. Jolly lies somewhere in a graveyard near Cameron and there may be some descendants and friends who would be interested in this story. If so please feel free to use it in any way you feel appropriate.

If the story is used, I would like at least three copies of your papers and a photograph (Polaroid print or a negative is perferred), of his burial spot and tombstone, if convenient. I will use these to send to Mr. Watson and to the Caroliniana Section of the Clemson College Library.

Enclosed please find two copies of a recent article in an Anderson, South Carolina paper which helps to complete the story which I have written.

I do hope that you will find this story interesting and that you can be of help to the College, Mr. Watson and Jolly's friends and descendants.

Sincerely yours,
HARRY R. WRIGHT

Dear Sirs:

The following jingle is my reaction to a recent short visit to my old home town - might be interesting to old timers, if you have space in your fine paper.

Did you ever go back to the old home town where you were born and start looking around for familiar spots and familiar ground, to discover many landmarks were not to be found -- the school house, town clock, the church with the steepie where you were married - and oh the people you used to know and love in those early years before mass media, sputniks and new frontiers, when monkeys were monkeys and were to be found only when the old organ grinder came to town and the only capsule you knew anything about was filled with quinine, the dengue to rout; when astronauts and satellites were unused words and space travel and orbit were just for the birds -

But before you had time to feel too bereft your heart is gladdened by dear ones who are left. You can never go back, they always say -- Maybe you have never been too far away.

Thanking you and with best wishes, I am

Your friend,

Dear Sir,

I am looking up my "family tree" and would like to get some information on your files on past issue of the paper and possibly on an ancestor that lived in Milam County during the last century. Do you have files going back to the time the paper was founded in 1860, or if not do you know if any library might have such files?

One of my ancestors settled in Milam Co. about 1855. His name was Eli Hardcastle, Sr. and he died about June 15, 1867. Perhaps a story or obituary was published in your paper. He was well known in the county having fought all through the Civil War and being the father of thirteen children. If an obituary was printed I am interested in learning his place of birth,parents' name, etc.

It would also be helpful to know whether you have any subscribers named either Hardcastle or Peoples. Eli's son Elias married Elizabeth Peoples in Milam Co. I would like to write to any descendants that I can locate.

Thank you very much for any help that you can give me.

Respectfully yours,
T. R. Howard

Payroll Tax Plan Is Discarded

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Both proand anti- sales taxes declare their in abetter position now that Governor Price Daniel has dropped his support of the payroll tax plan.

Pro-sales taxers say this will leave the Legislature practically no choice but to pass a general sales tax. But opponents say it clears the way to getting down to "numerous other plans."

In his message dropping the payroll tax, the governor also said that he felt neither a sales nor an income tax had a chance of passage. He recommended instead the State Finance Advisory Commission's second choice plan, extension of excise taxes.

Under this plan, new items to be taxed would include restaurant meals, gas and electric household appliances, jewelry and watches, soft drinks, building materials, business machines, home and office furnishings and boat and automobile parts.

Taxes on these items would be increased: motor vehicles, gasoline, air conditioners (to include central systems), cosmetics, beer liquor, wine and boats and motors.

ELECTIVE INSURANCE BOARD

A proposal to grant the people the right to elect members of the Insurance Board has been introduced by Rep. David Read of Big Springs.

The appontive Board has been under severe criticism for several years, especially since it suddenly increased insurance rates on motorists, based on traffic violations.

Bill is patterned after the law requiring the election of Railroad Commissioners. It is the sponsor's belief that the public would be given more consideration if the insurance posts were elective positions.

AUTO INSURANCE PLAN HIT

Texas' merit rating plan for auto insurance came in for heavy criticism as the Senate Insurance Committee considered a measure calling for extensive change

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo declared that, at present, it's not how you drive, but whether you get caught, that determines your insurance premiums.

Under a revised plan sponsored by Senator Hazlewood, insurance premiums would be raised only for more serious traffic violations. No penalty points would be assigned for anything that happened before January 1, 1960.

In taking apart the present plan, Senator Hazlewood said it is inequitable because, among other reasons, (1) it doesn't apply to commercial vehicles such as trucks, taxis, etc. and (2) traffic tickets aren't passed out as readily in small towns as large ones.

No one appeared to disagree with his view.

WATER BILL PASSED

A bill to raise the amount the State Water Development Board can lend for local water projects gained final passage from both Houses.

It will become law with the governor's signature. Governor Daniel favors the bill, called it "a great step forward.'. Bill will alow the board to lend up to $15-000,000 for any one water project.

Another water measure under consideration would allow the state to buy conservation storage space in Texas reservoirs, saving and selling water that would otherwise run off. It is in the form of a constitutional amendment and is sponsored by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

Supporters hope to gain legislative approval in time to have it put on the ballot at the same time as the run - off in the special senatorial race.

Feed Grain Bill Decision Made

By Cong. W. R. Poage

We finally came to an agreement on a Feed Grains bill and reported it to the full Committee for consideration Monday morning without a dissenting vote. By the time I had gone over the details with the Committee staff, it was night and I had a dinner engagement with the Reserve Officers Association, including a number from home.

I consider the action on this bill very encouraging. It means that for the first time in years there was no partisan division on an important matter of farm policy. There were, of course, concessions of each side. That is the only way such bipartisan support is ever achieved. For instance, I still think that it would be better to give a high support price and pay a smaller amount for retiring land, but other members feel just the opposite.

Everyone admits that we must stop the buildup of surplus grain. Most everyone agrees that it is silly to produce more than we can use. This bill proposes to discourage unneeded production by paying corn and maize producers to retire part of their grain land (not more than 40 per cent -- no whole farms). In addition, those who reduce (comply) will be assured of a substantially higher support on what they do produce. It is all voluntary. If a farmer wants to plant his whole farm in maize and contribute to the breakdown of the price, he may do so, but he gets nothing from the government and we don't think he will get much for his grain.

There are those who say that this program will hurt livestock people, chicken people and consumers generally. Let us look at the facts:

A few years ago corn was supported at around $1.50 per bushel. At that time feeder calves sold as high as 36 and 37 cents(I know of one sale at 39 cents). Broilers sold up to 17 or 18 cents. Yet the cost of living is higher today than it was five years ago.

Corn is now supported at $1.06 per bushel and calves are bringing 25 and 26 cents. Broilers are doing well to bring 12 cents. All farm income is down. The consumer is worse off than he was when the farmer was prosperous.

Why should livestock men, chicken growers or consumers object to a price level more nearly approaching the level which gave them prosperity If we can judge the future by the past, higher feed grain prices will be helpful to farmers, livestock growers, consumer and surely to taxpayers.

Texas Fish License Cost Lowest In U. S.

AUSTIN — Thirty states charge more than Texas for resident fishing licenses and every state charges more for non - resident licenses, according to a breakdown of hunting and fishing licenses costs for 1960 - 61.

The average cost of none-resident fishing licenses in 49 states is $7.36. In Texas residents and non residents pay $2.15 for an annual license. The average price for resident fishing licenses in 49 states is $2.70.

Iowa and Kansas have the lowest non - resident licenses, other than Texas. They are $3 each. Indiana charges $3.50 and Illinois and Indiana charge $4.

There are 45 states with temporary fishing licenses, average $3.05 each.

California Colorado, Florida, Maryland, Montana, Nevada, South Carolina, West Virginia and Wyoming charge non - residents $10. Washington and Arizona charge $15.

A number of the states have a trout stamp which costs extra.

On hunting licenses, the average resident cost is $4.38. The Texas license is $3.15. The non - resident average for 49 states is $25.36. The Texas non - resident is $25. The price in Idaho is $75. Several other states have lower basic licenses than Texas, but charge additional for deer permits.

Grounds Broken For New Game Building

AUSTIN — Ground was broken 10 a. m. Thursday for a new state office building in Austin which will house the Game & Fish Commission. The first spadeful of dirt was turned by Gov. Price Daniel, who also is chairman of the State Building Commission.

The building when completed will have an area of 147,205 square feet. The construction contracts call for an expenditure of $2,076,102 Of that amount the game commission is paying $1 million.

The building is located on the southwest corner of $15th and Congress Ave. just north of the Capitol building.

It is the fifth new structure on the Capitol campus progr^am within the past four years.

In addition to the Game & Fish Commission the building also will house the Public Welfare Department; the Banking Commission; State Board of Plumbing Examiners and the Engineers Registration board.

Weather Forecasters Lucky They Aren't Elected To Hold Office

Dear editar:

As everybody knows, we've had a lot of weather this winter, not only here but all over the country and I have been thinking lately how lucky weather forecasters are that they aren't elected to office. Be the biggest turn-over in the history of politics.

The trouble with predicting the weather is that the job too frequently is hopeless, like predicting women or a mis-fired satellite in orbit. Weather men, like economists, are a whole lot better at telling you what happened than what's going to. Yesterday's weather is a lot easier to report than tomorrow's.

Don't misunderstand me. I listen to the weather forecast nearly every day, read it whenever I get my hands on a newspaper and I'll admit these fellows are pretty good at predicting when a cold front is going to hit my Johnson grass farm if somebody way up the country has struck his head out the window and discovered it and found out how fast it's moving in my direction and wired the news ahead to the nearest weather bureau and it's good information to have, I depend on it.

But the weather doesn't always move in a straight line. Sometimes it seems to come from all directions at once, and this is when it rains on a predicted fair day and the sun shines when the forecast called for rain. It accounts for a two-foot snow when a light frost was predicted.

It's at times like this that weather predicting takes on the same impossible job of a public opinion poll. Sometimes a poll is right, sometimes wrong and a citizen is left with the job of predicting for himself which poll and which forecast is right. The weather, like people, doesn't always follow a predictable pattern, which is the reason no candidate knows that the voters through until all the votes are counted and I don.t always know what the weather will be tomorrow until I get up the next day and look at my thermometer. And sometimes then it seems like it's colder than the thing shows. Weather forecasting has a long way to go before it can tell me today how much clothes I need to wear tomorrow.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Southern States Balk As Peace Conference Stalls

By Robert Stonedale

Cameron Herald Correspondent

RICHMOND, Va. Virginia is devoting effort of a special state convention to an attempt to work out a peaceful settlement of the great issue now dividing the Nation. For the past few weeks, the leading citizens of the Old Dominion have been laboring tirelessly to reconcile the differences between the South and the North and to avoid fraticidal war.

The recent establishment of the Confederate States of America has presented the people of Virginia and those of the other Southern states with a grand enigma: They must determine how they may remain in the Union without being forced to join the Northern efforts to coerce their neighbors. The abolitionists scheduled to be installed as the new Federal government next week are not expected to view this problem with sympathy.

The Virginia Convention now meeting in Mechanics Institute Hall in Richmond, began its activities with an announcement of continued faith in States Rights and self-government, and made strong pronouncements against Federal coercion.

Former governor Henry A. Wise is leading the Secessionist delegates who are drawn largely form the Tidewater, Piedmant, and Southwest sections of the State. The strong Unionist and Moderate elements present have prevented any hasty steps toward secession being taken.

On January 19th, Virginia invited the States not actively involved in secession to participate in a peace conference in Washington. Famous Virginians, including ex-president John Tyler, John W. Brockenbrough, and James A. Seddon, among others, have served as delegates to that conference whose efforts have thus far come to naught.

Although 13 Northern States and seven Southern States are represented their recommended compromises have been ignored by the Federal government, and the members have become discouraged.

When the Virginia Convention met on February 13th Governor John Letcher addersser the body and rebuker spokesman from other Southern States who have been attempted to lecture Virginia as to her duty. He also took those of the North to task who are making reconciliation impossible.

He asserts Virginia's legal right to withdraw from the Union, but has cautioned the delegates that their primary responsibility is to Virginia.

Those in favor of immediate secession argue that self-interest and self-preservation requir that Virginia attach herself to the Southern Confederacy. It appears, however, that in the absence of armed intervention on the part of the North, the delegates will not heed that plea.

Ex-president John Tyler has been alarmed by the antagonistic attitude of some of the Northern States toward his state.

"When Virginia is making every possible effort to reedeem and save the Union," the distinguished statesman said in Richmond last week, "it is ungracious to have cannon leveled at her bosom."

In North Carolina, meanwhile, confusion has almost paralized the government. Governor John W. Ellis is leading a group favoring secession, although Unionists appear to be in a majority in the State. His State has sent a delegation which includes Chief Justice Thomas Ruffin to the Washington conference.

Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri have not yet seriously debated secession and are also participating in the Washington meeting. In Arkansas, however, the First Division of the Arkansas State Militia has occupied the United States Arsenal in Little Rock, even through Arkansas has not yet joined the Confederate States.

The action was taken under the orders of Governor Henry M. Revtor, apparently as the result of the assembling of thousands of patdiotic volunteers in Little Rock.

The men were inflamed by news that Federal troops were on the way to reinforce Capitan James Totten at the U. S. Arsenal. Militia units including the Arkansas Yell Rifles and the Phillips Guards appeared in Little Rock eager for action.

The explosive situation was resolved when Captain Totten agreed to evacuate the Arsenal and the State troops took possession.

It is obvious that the remaining Southern States will take no immediate action to secede unless the Federal forces attempt to coerce the Confederacy or interferer with the rights of the other States. Thus it is still possible that the separation of the seven states of the Confederacy from the Union may be accomplished peaceably, provided, of course, that the Union agrees to abandon its military positions within the borders of the new Republic.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

The bitterest national political campaign with the exception of the one in 1860 when Lincoln was elected, took place in 1896. The combination of the threat of industries to close down if William Jennings Bryan was elected and the tremendous campaign fund spent by Mark Hanna caused the election of William McKinley.

Twenty-four years afterward, I was editing the Piggott, Arkansas, Banner. An attorney, Mayor Arthur Sneed, had vivid recollections of the campaign.

Sneed was a stripling in 1896 but he had debated for Bryan's side. He said that one of the "arguments" of the gold standard debators was that Judas had betrayed the Savior for thirty pieces of silver. Sneed countered with the assertion that instead of saying that silver should be assursed because of the betrayal, the opposite was true because, had it not been for the thirty pieces of silver, Judas would not have betrayed his Master; and if He had not been betrayed and had not died on the cross, mankind could not have received salvation for, without the shedding of blood, there could be no remission of sins.

(Another argument which occurred to me - - but it was of course too late to use - - was that none of those who denounced silver refused to accept dollars, halves and quarters fade of the "accused" metal.)

My partner had been the "printer's devil" in the Banner office in 1896 when my father was the editor. One of the candidates for the Defocratic presidential nomination in 1920 was Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer.

"All I know or want to know is that a man named Palmer ran as a Goldbug Democrat in 1860 in order to take as many votes away from Bryan as possible," my partner declared. If one who had been only a lad retained such a strong view for almost a quarter of a century, that campaign of '96 must have really been charged with excitement and emotion.

Improving Cheap Flyrods

Avoid buying cheap flyrods. Among obvious drawbacks is the fact that they do not have enough guides to control the line properly.

But if you already have such a rod, it can be improved by respacing its guides and adding a few of your own. These can be bought at any sporting goods store for about the cost of a cigarette each.

Clear Water Fishing

Clear water is hard to fish. Even old pros have trouble with it.

Children May Be Taxpayer, Dependent

As a parent you may be able to claim your child as a dependent on that 1960 Federal tax return, even though the child earned $600 or more last year.

This encouraging word came today from A. P. Andrews, Administrative Officer for Internal Revenue Service at Temple.

"If you have supplied more than half of his support, you may claim an exemption for him regardless of the amount he earned, providing he hadn't reached his 19th birthday by January 1, 1961.

"When the child is 10 or over, you still may claim an exemption for him fihe was a full - time student during some part of each of five calendar months in 1960, and if you meet the support test. A full-time student is one who is enrolled for the number of hours which is considered to be fulltime attendance."

In many instances, taxpayers can save time by telephoning Internal Revenue.

Cameron Lions Told Highways Safer In Texas

A steady decrease in highway fatalities since the beginning of the Governors Highway Safety program in 1956 was reported by Sgt. Tate, Safety Education officer from Texas Highway Department when he spoke to Cameron Lions at their regular noon meeting Monday.

Tate discussed 3 proposed measures for better highway safety that have been adopted or approved by the Governor's Highway Safety Committee:

1. Increase the complement of the Highway Department's patrolmen force from a present 803 to 1600, putting the department on a par with California and Pennsylhighway systems.

2. Require written consent for blood tests, if involved in an accident, for all persons wishing to renew their drivers license.

3. Make all traffic courts, courts of record requiring that records of testimony be kept for review by a higher court if an appeal is made. At present a complete new trial is required for appeals.

VA Denotes Which Will Get Benefits From GI Insurance

The Veterans Administration today identified which veterans will and which will not share in more than a quarter - billion dollar GI insurance dividend to be distributed under the President's accelerated payment plan designed to assist the economy.

P. J. Mims, Manager of the VA regional office in Waco outlined a step - by - step method GI policyholders could use to find out if they have a dividend coming.

First, locate your GI insurance policies.

Next, take note of the policy number -- especially the letter in front of it. Then, follow this guide:

1. You WILL get a dividend-
IF the letter "V" precedes the policy number, or
IF the letter "K" preceds the policy number.

2. You WILL NOT receive a dividend-
IF the letters "RS" "W" "RH" or "H" precedes the policy number.
IF you have already received your dividend for 1961, you will not receive another one.
IF you placed your policy under in - service waiver of premium payment which is still in effect.

Mims pointed out that about 261,-680 policyholders in Texas will participate in the dividend.

"Veterans will help themselves and VA by not flooding our office with individual phone calls and letters.,'

150 Headlighters Taken In January

AUSTIN — Game wardens took 105 Texans into court during the month of January for headlighting game, according to the monthly arrest report of Capt. E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission.

Also during the month there were 85 arrests for failure to have hunting and fishing licenses.

The wardens made a total of 418 arrests for the month. Courts assessed fines and costs at $18,-51820.

Nine persons served time in jail for failure to pay fines.

There were 16 persons arrested for killing deer in closed season; 23 for having untagged deer; 30 for shooting from automobiles and two for "telephoning" fish.

Night hunting has been the bane of game wardens. They are called upon nightly by persons who hear shooting on known deer range. The wardens then must get the villators with evidence that will stand up in court. Usually they are able to bring in the carcass of the dead animals.

Some night shooters just pot the game from the road side and drive on leaving the animal for vultures.

January Bond Sale Hits 16.5 Percent

At the close of business January 31, 16.5 percent of the total 1961 sales goal for Milam County was achieved, according to announcement made by Henry Seibman, chairman of the Milam County Savings Bond Committee.

"Statewide, the percentage of goal achieved is 9.5, which is normal for the month of January," said Seibman.

He further stated, "Response both in attendance and in enthusiasm at state organizational promotion meetings is such that we confidently expect to exceed our State goal by the end of 1961."

(just like the Valiant owners you know!)

What makes Valiant, and the people who own it, so easy going?

For one thing, nagging annoyances that beset many other car bodies have been engineered out of Valiant's one-piece welded Unibody. And out where the road bumps are, Valiant's Torsion-Aire suspension stays smooth as milk 'n' honey.

Remember, too, Valiant's low prices begin $100 lower than last year. And because Valiant's built the way it is, it's bound to rate high at resale time.

For looks and liveliness, for long life and low cost, the top compact this year is Valiant. Come see the man who sells them!
